

No one can whistle a symphony. It takes a whole orchestra to play it.

H.E. Luccock

Synergy Construction Hungary Kft. is a fast-growing, international construction company with a strong background in diverse projects. We are proud of our achievements so far and our unique team who are architects of these achievements. The prestige and volume of our completed and ongoing projects have put our company at the forefront of the Hungarian construction market!

We are looking for a Mechanical Site Engineer having the following qualifications to be assigned in our company for our upcoming projects in Hungary. If you think you meet the expectations and this role is a precious opportunity for your career path, let's apply!

We are looking for Mechanical Site Engineers who;

- Have at least a BSc degree in Mechanical Engineering (MSc is also welcome)
- Know the local regulations related to registration to legal local authorities regarding the mechanical equipment installation such as condensing unit registration to NKVH.
- Hungarian (we are interested in local candidates only)
- Good english communication skill level.

The job description is as follows:

- Modelling, design, organization, planning, optimization and management of design tasks, technological processes and installation works according to specific aspects.
- Organization of construction works, preparation of installation, commissioning, operation and maintenance regulations.
- Cooperation with engineers working in other fields.
- To acquire, apply and comply with the standards, technical regulations, laws, regulations and regulations of the company.
- Perform the tasks entrusted to them with a high level of expertise and care.
- Preserve the business secrets which were learned.

Apply for this job: Anil Kocer anilk@syncons.eu